MS in Molecular Biology

Posted by Dima - 2012/08/11 03:43

_____

I have a BS in clinical laboratory sciences and I'm willing to have MS in molecular biology online if this is available with a US accredited university. I have been searching the site and I could not find a university for this major online.

==========

Re:MS in Molecular Biology Degree Online

Posted by VickyPhillips - 2012/08/11 16:50

_____

Hi Dima,

Finding a Molecular Biology degree online is a challenge.

This is not a popular major online and would be a very specialized degree to earn even on campus. However, I believe there is an Online Molecular Biology Masters Degree available through Lehigh University Distance Education in Pennsylvania.

You will need to have a biology BS with at least a 3.0 (B) overall GPA. There is a non-thesis option but you need to be employed in a work setting where you can complete research / applied work in chemistry.

If others know of additional accredited online master degrees in molecular biology in the USA please let Dima know.

Happy Studying!
Vicky Phillips
GetEducated.com Founder

Dima wrote:
I have a BS in clinical laboratory sciences and I'm willing to have MS in molecular biology online if this is available with a US accredited university. I have been searching the site and I could not find a university for this major online.

==========