Hello Admin,

I would like to see articles on careers in the healthcare industry, just to create awareness in the minds of people who still think that wok from home careers like medical transcriprion, billing coding, etc are just scams. I will really appreciate your writings.

Hi Admin,

I was wondering if there is a place on GetEducated.com that discusses in-depth options for online education for getting information systems degrees? Maybe I missed it, I'm just trying to stay on top of options and trends and get as much info as possible. Any help or references are appreciated. Thanks!
