AACSB-accredited online schools

Posted by tbsmom - 2011/09/26 17:06

_____

Hi.

I am trying to find an AACSB-accredited online program for bussiness accounting. I am looking to eventually take the CPA exam and will need the 150 credits to do so.

Do you have any avenues that I may explore for this information?

Thanks.
Amber

==========

Re:AACSB-accredited online schools CPA Accounting

Posted by VickyPhillips - 2011/09/26 17:40

_____

Hi Amber,

Yes, we can help.
What state are you trying to meet CPA licensing requirements for?
All states do not have the same requirements, this is why I ask.

In general you will need a bachelors in business with 24 credits in business and 24 or more in accounting, and a bachelors with more credits than normal -- often up to 150 semester credits as opposed to 120 -- + 2 years supervised experience working under a CPA.

Make sure you check your state's specific CPA licensing board regs BEFORE you enroll in any online degree program.

You do not usually need to attend a b-school that is AACSB accredited for the CPA exam BUT if you want one that is so accredited it will narrow your choices.

To find your online accounting degree options ....

Search the Get Educated database for all online bachelors business degrees

You will get a list of 304 possible bachelors.

Then use the filters on your LEFT to NARROW your search to CHOOSE MAJOR = Accounting/Tax.

You will get 30 online bachelors in the accounting/tax major area.

Then use the ACCREDITATION filters on your left to NARROW your search to AACSB.

You now have one choice:

Washington State University Online

You can search our directory in all sorts of ways.

START here at Compare Online Degrees

Just play with the FILTERS on your left to create all sorts of lists by applying the filters.

You can also filter by STATE which may help you find schools in your state.

Good Luck!
Vicky Phillips

tbsmom wrote:
Hi.

I am trying to find an AACSB-accredited online program for bussiness accounting. I am looking to eventually take the CPA exam and will need the 150 credits to do so.

Do you have any avenues that I may explore for this information?

Thanks.
Amber

==========