Fast EMBA with AACSB

Posted by speedy - 2012/05/15 15:38

Hi,

Looking for suggestions on an EMBA program that I can do while I work full time that best meets my requirements:

Must Have
- 12-16 month in length (need to finish by late 2013 or early 2014). Note: I do not want to overload courses to try and finish a 2 year program in ~1 year.
- AACSB accredited.
- All online, or located around the Cali Bay Area (want to avoid programs that require nights/weekends on campus if it's not local to me).

Ideally, should have
- Not too many mandatory "international trips".
- Under $50k.

Have looked at 40+ schools, and have not found 1 program that meets ALL of the above criteria. I will compromise where I have to, but just wondering if I may be missing some options?

Thanks

==========

Re:Fast EMBA with AACSB

Posted by vicky - 2012/05/21 13:21

Hi Speedy,

Thanks for telling us what you needed. I searched the Get Educate database of online mba degrees -- we list 339 of them today -- and then sorted all these by the filters. Since you want a California MBA online I used the STATES filter.

I got 15 California distance MBA options.

The executive MBA angle makes it harder as does the AACSB demand.
Here are the closest matches I found:

California State University-Monterey Bay (CA)
Graduate School of Business
Executive Master of Business Administration
Est. Cost: $41,400

SEE:
http://www.geteducated.com/profiles/show/online-degrees/california-state-university-monterey-bay/graduate-school-of-business/29/861/master-of-business-administration

It looks like the Monterey Bay MBA might help you along BUT they are NOT accsb accredited.

You can do search and selection yourself to see all the options.

To find what you want in our system you'd need to expand and look outside California OR let go the AACSB factor OR let go the E-MBA option.

If anyone else can help Speedy please do!

All the Best
Vicky Phillips
Get Educated Founder

speedy wrote:
Hi,

Looking for suggestions on an EMBA program that I can do while I work full time that best meets my requirements:

Must Have
- 12-16 month in length (need to finish by late 2013 or early 2014). Note: I do not want to overload courses to try and finish a 2 year program in ~1 year.
- AACSB accredited.
- All online, or located around the Cali Bay Area (want to avoid programs that require nights/weekends on campus if it's not local to me).

Ideally, should have
- Not too many mandatory "international trips".
- Under $50k.

Have looked at 40+ schools, and have not found 1 program that meets ALL of the above criteria. I will compromise where I have to, but just wondering if I may be missing some options?

Thanks

==========

Re:Fast EMBA with AACSB

Posted by mhubbel - 2012/05/24 08:24

There is an internationally ranked EMBA program offered at the beautiful campus of Pontificia Universidad Javeriana in Cali, with state-of-the-art classroom, in partnership with Temple University. Details at http://www.fox.temple.edu/emba-cali/. The director of the graduate programs is Andres Messa Diaz; eamessa@javerianacali.edu.co. Best of luck to you!

==========

Re: Fast EMBA with AACSB
Posted by mhubbel - 2012/05/24 08:29

To the Administrator/Moderator,

I think I responded in error...when reading this post, I thought the writer was from Cali, Columbia. You may delete or disregard my post; sorry for the inconvenience.

mhubbel

==========

Re: Fast EMBA with AACSB
Posted by VickyPhillips - 2012/05/24 10:53

Hi MHubbel,

You are correct. The poster was looking for an online eMBA in California rather than the abbreviated Cali in Columbia. Thanks for the tip on the Temple Fox eMBA in Columbia, however. I am sure this tip will help someone!

Vicky

mhubbel wrote:
To the Administrator/Moderator,

I think I responded in error...when reading this post, I thought the writer was from Cali, Columbia. You may delete or disregard my post; sorry for the inconvenience.

mhubbel

==========

Re:Fast EMBA with AACSB
Posted by speedy - 2012/05/24 12:22

Thanks Vicky, but AACSB is mandatory. Also, note that my requirement was online OR california local (either is acceptable).

Unfortunately this site does not have the required filters I need (e.g. length of the degree), so I could not use it to narrow down what I want.

However after looking through hundreds of programs individually, i finally found just one program which met all of my criteria (including both of my "ideal" requirements too), so I thought I would post it back here in case it's of use to any future googler's. That program is CSU Stanislaus EMBA.

==========

Re:Fast EMBA with AACSB California

Posted by VickyPhillips - 2012/05/25 07:32

Hi Speedy,

Thanks for the update!
It's a shame that California EMBA from Stanislaus is not offered online.
I see they have cohorts in different locations, so I assume one is close to you.
Thanks for the tip - we have posted it so others can locate this degree too.
We only list online MBA options but someone googling this forum for a fast eMBA in California will find this tip right on target!

Vicky

b]speedy wrote:
Thanks Vicky, but AACSB is mandatory. Also, note that my requirement was online OR california local (either is acceptable).

However after looking through hundreds of programs individually, i finally found just one program which met all of my criteria (including both of my "ideal" requirements too), so I thought I would post it back here in case it's of use to any future googler's. That program is CSU Stanislaus EMBA.

==========

Re:Fast EMBA with AACSB

Posted by AlyxisPaige - 2012/09/11 13:20

Doesn't University of Florida offer a 1 year online MBA degree if you have a BA in business??? I don't have much details -- but you should look into that. And they are definitely AACSB accredited, and their MBA program, online and FT, is highly ranked.

==========

Re:Fast EMBA with AACSB Hough School Florida

Posted by VickyPhillips - 2012/09/11 14:51

Hi AlyxisP,

Yes, the University of Florida Online MBA Program (click for the details) has both a 1 year online MBA and a 2 year online masters in business administration from the Hough School. They are also AACSB accredited.

Thanks for the tip!

Vicky Phillips

Founder - GetEducated.com

HAlyxisPaige wrote:
Doesn't University of Florida offer a 1 year online MBA degree if you have a BA in business??? I don't have much details -- but you should look into that. And they are definitely AACSB accredited, and their MBA program, online and FT, is highly ranked.

==========